

A Promise of Tomorrow

Although the world is shaken by Coronavirus, You stand firm and hold your ground, telling the world
what's inside of you.

Although fear captures many hearts as CNN broadcasts the number of deaths,
You fear death, but hold your ground and stand up firm, broadcasting no fear, but the power of love,

Although joblessness surprises the closedown of businesses,
You do not backdown, but give all you are,
Coaching Love to closed mindedness to reach the horizon of those in need,

Although coronavirus dooms the world in darkness,
You stand firm with the Light of Love,
Rolling the stone as you overcome death, Wakening the world, to the northern light, giving the human race, a promise of tomorrow.

Paulina Raymond, SSND

April 15, 2020